PRESIDENT'S FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE ADVISORY BOARD

September 15, 1982

PTJ AB

Dear Bill:

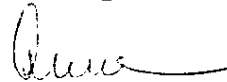

I was recently contacted by an academic researcher who objected to the revisions in CIA policy regarding the availability of unclassified analytic reports and the institution of subscription fees for other materials.

After carefully reviewing all of the issues involved in the matter, I fully agree with your decision to alter the previous policy. However, during the course of considering the issue, it was pointed out by one of our Board members that there might be some negative impacts on CIA's relations with the academic community as a result of the new policy.

I would therefore like to suggest that it might be worthwhile to undertake a review of the policy changes at the end of one year to assess whether there have been any adverse effects.

You have undoubtedly already received feedback on this issue, and hopefully these comments will be useful.

Sincerely,

Anne Armstrong
Chairman
